

OEM Partners

K-12 Village

The K12 Village unites six specialized companies to empower schools and students. Together, we tackle EdTech challenges, from device protection to software, connectivity, and classroom solutions. Built on collaboration and expertise, we work together with educators to create innovative solutions that reduce device damage and enhance the academic experience, shaping the future of learning for K-12 education.

Educational Collaborators is a national consulting organization comprised of many of the best practitioners in the field of education. Unlike most consultants, most of our collaborators work in schools today and see their ideas through to their fullest extent. Engaging current educators allows us to deliver the most relevant skills available.

Learn21 is a non-profit that provides innovative, cost-effective educational technology solutions to schools. Today, we support schools with a dynamic team of software developers and instructional innovators.

As one of the world's largest manufacturers of ChromeOS devices, we pride ourselves on developing technology solutions that are not only innovative but also budget-friendly and tailored to meet your needs. We sit side-by-side with you to deliver computing solutions, program best practices, and industry-leading services so you can concentrate on what truly matters: your success.

LocknCharge simplifies mobile device deployment and management for schools of any size, with solutions to charge, store, secure, manage, and sanitize devices. Our zero-touch models ensure ready-to-go devices for students and faculty, enabling seamless classroom workflows and allowing teachers, students, and IT teams to focus on what they do best.

Having pioneered the technology insurance industry in 1982, Safeware is one of the most recognized names in product protection. Safeware's innovative approach to insurance and extended warranty solutions has propelled the company into multiple industries. By helping partners to customize coverage based on their unique needs, Safeware provides best-in-class programs allowing customers to own their products with confidence.